Editor of Distinction Awards 2026

Dear Peter Hajdu,

Your dedication to your journal and research communities is truly inspiring. By expanding your journal's network, supporting your authors, and advocating for your communities, you play a vital role in advancing discovery.

This outstanding contribution deserves recognition, and you are being honoured through the Springer Nature Editor of Distinction Awards:

Your Springer Nature Editor of Distinction Award

Editorial Contribution Award

A directory of your fellow awardees is now available in the Springer Nature Editorial Community, sign in to celebrate and connect with your exceptional colleagues.

What are the Editor of Distinction Awards?

The Editor of Distinction awards recognise the outstanding contributions of our editorial community in the following key categories:

Springer Nature Editorial Contribution Award – recognising your place among the top 20% for manuscripts sent to peer review, highlighting your careful evaluation of submissions and strong stewardship of the peer review process.

Springer Nature Author Service Award – recognising your place among the top 20% for time to first decision, reflecting your commitment to delivering an efficient, constructive, and fair experience for authors.

By rewarding you, we recognise the vital role you play in managing the peer review process and demonstrate our commitment to showcasing these activities. We greatly appreciate the time and expertise you dedicate to helping authors improve their manuscripts and are proud to work with you to build successful journals.

Congratulations and thank you for your dedication to your authors and advancing discovery!

Kind Regards

Ritu Dhand Ph.D.

Chief Scientific Officer
